Activities Inspire Growth and Success for Jenna

Jenna Newman has participated in Riverside's recreation programs for many years. Within the past 5 years, though, she has become more involved in the Adventures In Advocacy program, aimed at helping people with developmental disabilities determine what they want in life and develop skills to go after their goals. When asked about her involvement in Advocacy events Jenna said, "It made me more independent. I learned to do more stuff myself. It gave me the confidence to get a job now, and I'm driving and doing my own money and all that. I used to have a payee through APSI, and I am working on guardianship. I'm proud of myself."

Jenna says her favorite things to do with Community Connections Team are Dinner and a Movie, Mayhem & Mystery and going to concerts at Hobart and Nutter Center. Jenna now also serves as a mentor for some outings, helping others who might need a hand getting a drink or finding their seat. It gives her a sense of pride to help others learn and grow.

Jenna said if someone was hesitant to sign up for an activity, she would encourage them to sign up and to try something new. It might help them make friends and have fun. Keep up the great work, Jenna! We're so proud of you!
